

engadin spirits

orma whisky distillery 3303m.

corvatsch - silvaplana

on october 10, 2020 at 3303 meters above sea level, the highest single malt whisky distillery in the world was founded.
at this altitude, the distillation process takes place at a temperature of about 10°C. this allows the natural flavors to be better preserved.

orma «in lain»

the whiskey from the highest distillery in the world experiences a cask finishing in cembra pine wood and gets a touch of its unmistakable unique aroma.

2cl - 12 | 4cl - 24

orma peated

the whiskey is always aged in pine barrels and is characterized by the fact that it is unfiltered and has a very strong and intense flavor.

orma gin 3303

in addition to the whiskey, we also have the highest distilled gin in the world in the pot still process, i.e. in copper stills that preserve the typical aromas of the engadine forests.

4cl - 17

orma rosé cask aged gin 3303

this gin is also distilled in the pot still process. its peculiarity is that it matures in french oak barrels in which the rosé wine of martin donatsch was previously stored. so we have a deep pink gin with notes of berries and wood.

4cl - 18

iva herbikor

tschlin

this typical liqueur called iva is made according to a centuries-old engadine recipe. this drink is obtained from the plant moschus - sheep yarrow, which in the past was used as a remedy for stomach upsets. today, however, the leaves of this plant are used to obtain the iva essence, from which a fresh and sweet liqueur is made.

winter aged cocktails

mi-to oder milano torino created around 1860, this cocktail has established itself as one of the most drunk and popular italian cocktails in the world.

why milano torino?

we associate these two northern italian cities with two alcoholic drinks; bitter campari from milan, and sweet vermouth from turin. by mixing these two ingredients we obtain a dry and fragrant cocktail, from which the negroni variants we all know have been born.

discover our version that rests in small wooden barrels. accompanied by an aroma of orange peel it is served in a well chilled glass.

vesper martini

let us now turn to the james bond novel from 1953, which made this historical cocktail famous.

a cocktail with a thousand characters, which we can unite in a few words:

passion, strength, freshness and elegance.

to create an excellent vesper martini, we let the cocktail rest in the wooden barrel for a few weeks.

well chilled and shaken, it is then served with a lemon peel.

port weine

in 1829, butler nephew & co. established their family business in the douro region of portugal.

the wine is made mainly from touriga nacional, touriga franca and tinto roriz grape varieties and is produced in different vintages with the addition of sugar and finally aged in wooden barrels to preserve its organoleptic characteristics.
